13 Plaintiff,

14 v.

15 STUART J. RYAN, et al.,

16 Defendants.

Case No. 07-CV-1019-JMA

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF COUNSEL
[Doc. 178]

17 On April 8, 2011, Plaintiff Rodney Wayne Jones filed a motion for appointment of 18 counsel. [Doc. 178.] The Court previously denied Plaintiff's requests for counsel on 19 December 15, 2009 and February 23, 2010. [Docs. 120, 128.] Plaintiff presently claims 20 that he requires counsel because his case has survived all previous motions filed by 21 Defendants to dismiss the case, and due to the legal and factual complexity of 22 preparing his case for trial. Pl.'s Motion at 2-3.

23 "[T]here is no absolute right to counsel in civil proceedings." Hedges v.
24 Resolution Trust Corp., 32 F.3d 1360, 1363 (9th Cir. 1994) (citation omitted). "Title 28
25 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(1) permits the district court, in its discretion, to 'request an attorney to 26 represent any person unable to afford counsel.'" Solis v. County of Los Angeles, 514
27 F.3d 946, 958 (9th Cir. 2008) (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(1)). Such discretion may be 28 exercised only under "exceptional circumstances." Terrell v. Brewer, 935 F.2d 1015,

1 1017 (9th Cir. 1991); Burns v. County of King, 883 F.2d 819, 824 (9th Cir. 1989). "To 2 show exceptional circumstances, the litigant must demonstrate the likelihood of success
3 and the complexity of legal issues involved." Id. (citation omitted). Neither of these 4 factors is dispositive, and both must be considered. Terrell, 935 F.2d at 1017.

5 Having considered both factors, the Court does not find that exceptional
6 circumstances are present that would warrant the appointment of counsel in this case.
7 As the Court previously found, Plaintiff has a sufficient grasp of his case, including the 8 legal issues involved, and has been able to adequately articulate the factual basis of his
9 claims. See Dec. 15, 2009 Order [Doc. 120]. Further, the Court's order granting in part
10 and denying in part Defendants' motion for partial summary judgment does not equate
11 to a showing by Plaintiff that he has a likelihood of succeeding on the merits of his 12 remaining claims. The Court therefore DENIES without prejudice Plaintiff's motion for 13 appointment of counsel.

14 While the presence of exceptional circumstances warranting the appointment of 15 counsel does not exist in this case, the Court has attempted to locate volunteer counsel
16 to represent Plaintiff for purposes of settlement and/or trial through referrals to the San 17 Diego Volunteer Lawyer Program and to the Lawyer Representatives of the Southern 18 District of California. Although the Court has been unable to find volunteer counsel for 19 Plaintiff to date, it continues its efforts to do so.

20 IT IS SO ORDERED.
